

Alderney Street

{gallery}alderneystreet/main{/gallery} Nos. 39-41 Alderney Street are three fine Georgian/ Early Victorian residences in Westminster. These fine buildings always look their finest when they are presented in the very best fashion. Alderney Street was looking a little worse for wear as it had not been given a coat of paint for a few years.

On this contract we were given the task of sprucing up the old girls by carrying out external redecorations to both the front and rear elevations. Whilst this work was being carried out it became clear that some of the fine old original Georgian sash windows needed some remedial repairs having been in service for more than two hundred years. We then gave them some tender love and care, carrying out some minor repairs to the frames.
